Mortágua

Mortágua

Embraced by the Caramulo mountains and Buçaco forest, with the Dam of Aguieira at its feet, the Municipality of Mortágua has in itself a tourist space waiting to be discovered by those who like to enjoy life outdoors and enjoy the varied treasures of nature which are still in a virgin state. The green of the forest extends over 85% of the entire territory, disappearing into the far reaches of the horizon. For lovers of motor sports and contact with nature, we offer an extensive network of forest roads that can be the stage for unforgettable adventures. Living up to its name, water is a resource that exists in abundance. Running freely between mountains and valleys, we can find countless rivers and streams with crystal clear waters, which continue to move the traditional mills, and next to them they hide and safeguard some native forest species, creating in some places waterfalls, small waterfalls and serpentine labyrinths, of great natural beauty.
